

Semantic Search: Magnetic for the Needle in a Search Haystack

A NKOS/CENDI Workshop

December 6, 2012

US Department of Transportation

Washington DC

Program Committee

Denise Bedford (Kent State Univ.)

Joseph Busch (Taxonomy Strategies)

Michael Crandall (Univ. of Washington)

Jane Greenberg (Univ. of North Carolina)

Marjorie Hlava (Access Innovations)

Gail Hodge (CENDI/IIa)

Michael Pendleton (US EPA)

Amanda Wilson (National Transportation Library)

Shewan Workneh (International Monetary Fund)

Marcia Lei Zeng (Kent State Univ.)

The Program Outline

- Setting the Landscape
 - The Semantic Web
 - Views of Semantic Search
- The Value Proposition
- Where We Are
- Where We Are Going
- Q&A and Wrap up

Our Sponsors

<http://nkos.slis.kent.edu/> : An ad hoc work group of more than 100 international experts and implementers of knowledge organization systems.

www.cendi.gov : An interagency working group of senior scientific and technical information managers from 13 U.S. federal agencies.

Special thanks to Kent State University and the National Transportation Library